Non-Academic Skill Feedback:

Students will be provided with feedback on the following non-academic skills every 9 weeks.

General Description
Self-Direction : The student follows directions and procedures, sustains attention during class, and/or resists distractions.
Collaboration : The student works well with others, asks for help when needs it, and/or shares ideas.
Problem Solving : The student can describe a problem, finds more than one way to solve a problem, and/or is aware that all actions have outcomes.
Work Habits : The student comes prepared to class, manages time and materials, and/or stays on task.

The scale that teachers will use consists of four categories:

- Consistently Demonstrates: "C"
- Often Demonstrates: "O"
- Sometimes Demonstrates: "S"
- Rarely Demonstrates: "R"

Missing and/or Make-up Work Statement:

Missing work will be labeled in Infinite Campus with an "M" that will reflect a zero in the gradebook until it is completed. The "M" will be put in within two days of the assignment not being turned in. Once missing work is turned in, the "M" will be replaced with the appropriate grade. The late work policy applies once the assignment deadline has passed.

Students must complete missing and/or make-up work no later than the end of each 9-week grading period. After the 9-week grading period concludes, any missing and/or make-up work from the previous 9-week grading period will no longer be accepted for any credit.

If missing work results from an absence, students will have an equivalent number of days they were absent to complete any work or take any assessments for full credit whether the absence is excused or unexcused. If the assignment is not turned in within the equivalent number of days that the student was absent, then the late work policy applies.

Late Work Statement:

If a student is present in class and does not turn in assignments when required, the assignment will be considered late.

If a student does not turn in their work from an absence within an equivalent number of days to the length of their absence, the assignment will be considered late.

Centennial's late work policy is to apply a 5% penalty per late day up to a maximum of 20%. For example, if a student turns in an assignment one day, the assignment will be graded and then an additional 5% will be taken away for being one day late. Late work deductions do not apply to traditional tests/assessments.

Once the work is graded taking into account any late penalties, the M will be removed, the grade will be entered into the gradebook, and a flag of Late will be added.

Recovery of Major Assessments Statement:

If a student scores below 75% on a major assessment, they will have one recovery attempt available to them prior to the next major assessment. It is the student's responsibility to request a recovery attempt. The highest score available to them will be 75%. Before recovery, the teacher should work with the student to complete missing work and/or ensure delivery of the content through reteaching and relearning. The original score will remain if the student scores lower on the second attempt. The original score will be noted in the comment section of Infinite Campus if a student scores higher on the second attempt. This recovery process applies only to major assignment items, it does not apply to grades which are deemed minor and/or practice.

I will offer during class opportunities for recovery along with opportunities during my weekly office help hours; my weekly office help hours are referenced at the top of this syllabus

Timeline for Grading:

Students will receive grading and feedback in a timely manner to ensure they are aware of their progress towards mastery of content. If a grade is later than the chart below, the teacher will communicate this with students and parents.

Type Of Assignment	When It Should Be Uploaded to Canvas After Due Date
Practice	Maximum 5 Days
Minor: Multiple Choice, Shorter Assignment	Maximum 5 Days
Minor: Project Based, Extended Open Response	Maximum 7 Days
Major: Multiple Choice, Traditional Test Format	Maximum 7 Days
Major: Project Based, Essays	Maximum 10 Days
For all grades, a "M" will be put in within two days of the absence until the assignment or assessment is turned in.

Academic Integrity & Honor Code Policy

- As a community that values academic honesty and seeks to provide the highest levels of learning for students, the Centennial administration, faculty, parents, and students do not tolerate cheating.
- At any point in an alleged academic dishonesty circumstance, the student, the staff member, and/or the parent have the right to seek assistance from the student's assigned administrator in evaluating the case.
- As stated in Fulton County Board of Education Policy, cheating includes:
 - Copying or borrowing from another source and submitting it as one's own work – including plagiarizing sources from the internet
 - Seeking or accepting unauthorized assistance from anyone on tests, projects, or other assignments
 - Providing or receiving test questions in advance without permission
 - Working collaboratively with other students when individual work is expected – including homework
 - Other offenses as determined by administration

Definitions:

- Plagiarism
 - An act or instance of using or closely imitating the language and thoughts of another author without the authorization and the representation of that author's work as one's own, as by not crediting the original author.
 - A piece of writing or another work reflecting such unauthorized use or imitation.
- Collusion
 - Working with another student or group of students in an academically dishonest matter. This may include, but is not limited to: Allowing another student to copy your homework; Allowing another student to use your essay for one of his/her classes; Allowing another student to see your exam paper during the examination period; and/or Allowing a student to use work that you had completed in a previous year or at a previous school.
- Collaboration as Opposed to Collusion
 - During collaborative processes, two or more students work together on one assignment. They then submit one report/project, etc. with each of the student's names listed on the assignment. The assumption is that each member's collaborative involvement is deserving of equal credit for the work submitted.
- Duplication of Work
 - Copying another student's work and claiming it as your own.
- Intellectual Property
 - Intellectual property (IP) refers to creations of the mind: inventions, literary and artistic works, symbols, names, images, and designs used in commerce.
 - IP is divided into two categories: Industrial property, which includes inventions (patents), trademarks, industrial designs, and geographic indications of source; and Copyright, which includes literary and artistic works such as novels, poems, plays, films, musical works, artistic works such as drawings, paintings, photographs, sculptures, and architectural designs. Rights related to copyright include those of performing artists in their performances, producers of phonograms in their recordings, and those of broadcasters in their radio and television programs.

○ Authentic Authorship

- Writing that is done entirely by the specified author. All ideas and thought processes included in the piece written by the author are also the authentic work of the stated author. Nothing has been taken, borrowed, paraphrased, or re-shaped from another work by a different author.

○ Malpractice

- Taking unauthorized material into an examination room (such as cell phone, study guides, written notes, etc.).
- Leaving and/or accessing unauthorized material in a bathroom/restroom that may be visited during an examination.
- Misconduct during an examination, including any attempt to disrupt the examination or distract another candidate.
- Exchanging information or in any way supporting the passing on of information to another candidate about the content of an examination.
- Failing to comply with the instructions of the examiner or other members of the school's staff responsible for the conduct of the examination.
- Impersonating another candidate
- Stealing examination papers
- Using an unauthorized calculator during an examination or using a calculator when one is not permitted for the examination paper.
- Disclosing or discussing the content of an examination paper with a person outside the immediate school community within 24 hours of an examination.

Consequences for violations of Academic Integrity / Academic Honesty:

- First offense – zero on the assignment; teacher requires the original or alternate assignment to be completed for 50% credit; time allowed will be half the original time assigned; assignments not redone will remain a zero.
- Second and further offenses – zero on the assignment; disciplinary referral to administrator; dismissal from leadership positions; exclusion or dismissal from honor societies.
- The following violations shall result in immediate administrative referral and exclusion or expulsion from all honor societies: cheating on a final exam; altering or forging grades, gradebooks, progress reports, report cards, or academic records; fabricating data or signatures; theft of a test or other school resources. Students who commit an honor code violation could also lose leadership positions in clubs or organizations.
- Consequences will be applied if cheating occurs on any work submitted by a Centennial student in an event, competition, or contest in which he represents the school system.

Use of Artificial Intelligence - Limited AI Use with Teacher Permission:

In all Centennial courses, the use of generative AI tools is permitted only with explicit teacher approval for specific assignments. AI can serve as an aid to enhance understanding and interaction with course content, within the boundaries of academic integrity. If AI tools are used, all AI-generated content must be accurately cited, and students are responsible for the integrity and correctness of their submissions, including any content derived from AI tools. It is essential to critically evaluate AI outputs to ensure they meet academic standards. Unauthorized use of generative AI, without proper citation, is considered a violation of the Fulton County Schools Code of Conduct and may result in disciplinary action.

Personal Communication Devices at School:

To create a safe, focused, and distraction-free environment, all Fulton County high school students (9–12) are prohibited from accessing personal electronic devices during instructional time.

Personal devices, including cell phones, smartwatches, laptops, tablets, e-readers, smart glasses, and headphones—or any device with wireless communication, messaging, internet access, gaming, video recording, or social media features—may not be used during instructional time. This prohibition applies to instructional time only which is defined as class time.

Devices may be used on school grounds before the first class begins, during transitions to classes, during lunch / recess, and on school grounds after the school day concludes.

Using a personal electronic communication device will result in disciplinary action per the FCS Code of Conduct which includes device confiscation and additional disciplinary actions.

If a student needs to be reached while at school, please contact our front office to deliver a message.
